By RALPH DIGHTON

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE IN PACIFIC (AP)—America's champion astronaut, Walter M. Schirra Jr., steamed slowly today toward his first thunderous welcome—a massed greeting in Hawaii.

Scores of thousands are expected to jam Honolulu's Hickam Air Force Base, but Schirra's initial exposure to public acclaim will be brief and confined to the airfield.

He will be accompanied by five of the six other American astronauts.

Paul Haney, National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman, said the crowd would have to be jammed into a space 150 by 200 yards at Hickam. At Haney's estimate of one person per square foot, that would limit the crowd to 180,000 of Oahu's half million residents.

Tells Court of Losing $200,000

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Complicated testimony of dealings with former Paragould broker Arnold Edens continued in U.S. District Court Thursday with one man telling he lost $200,000.

Edens is charged, in a 12-count federal grand jury indictment, with using the mails for fraud.

John W. Recker, a Hoxie farmer and businessman, said he and his wife bought $22,500 of investor stocks from Edens and when the broker delivered them Recker's name was misspelled on the contract.

"The stocks were returned to Edens to be corrected," Recker testified. "A few days later," he said, Edens told him he should sign a blank letter, have the signature witnessed and send it to the broker. Recker said he did — and hasn't seen the stocks since.

James Holmes of Winston-Salem, N.C. testified his firm bought 300 shares of investor stocks from Edens in 1958 under belief Edens was representing "John Ricker." Holmes said he had refused to accept the securities until the signature was certified.

On cross examination Recker testified he had borrowed $4,000 from Edens, which he never repaid, and that investors Diversified Services, former employer of Edens, made a $155,000 settlement with him.

George Hartley, an accountant for investors, testified that Edens' employment with the firm had ended March 30, 1959.

Dr. Clark Baker of Paragould said on the witness stand he invested $45,700 with Edens and lost it.

The trial is continuing today.

Department Store Sales Show Dip

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department stores in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended Sept. 29 were two per cent below those of last year.

Sales in all reporting areas except St. Louis were up but the nine per cent drop in the biggest city in the district was enough to cause an overall decline.

Memphis area sales were up 16 per cent. Sales in Little Rock climbed eight per cent. Louisville sales rose one per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities were nine per cent higher.

District sales for the four-week period ended Sept. 29 were five per cent above those of 1961.

Sales in the district to date are five per cent above last year.

President to Politic on Weekend

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy turns today from grave and nagging chores to a presidential role he obviously enjoys: a weekend of openly politicking in four key states as head to the Democratic party.

Although he canceled all appointments Thursday and nursed a cold, Kennedy isn't expected to be hampered too much in his first major outright political tour since the 1960 campaign.

Certainly his program would tax a well-man—eight speeches in less than 48 hours, a helter-skelter dash by plane, helicopter and limousine into Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota.

Kennedy's schedule called for a mid-afternoon departure for Covington, Ky.

Before he beds down for the night, he will have made three speeches at Covington at Cincinnati's Fountain Square and at the Metropolitan Airport in Detroit.

Saturday he moves on to Flint and Muskegon, Mich., before flying to Minnesota, winding up with a statewide night telecast at a bean feed in Minneapolis. He returns home Sunday after a noon speech in St. Cloud, Minn.

Kennedy's choice of these particular states is no accident.

Each was fought over bitterly during the 1960 presidential campaign. In the end Kennedy was lucky to come out with a 2-2 tie. He won Michigan and Minnesota, but barely. His Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, carried Kentucky and Ohio.

In Kentucky Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt covets the job held by Sen. Thruston B. Morton. As a former chairman of the Republican party Morton is a prime target.

In Ohio, Kennedy would like to get in some good digs for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who is seriously challenged by the GOP state auditor, James A. Rhodes. Michigan offers an unusual challenge. Here George Romney, former automobile manufacturer, is trying to knock John B. Swainson out of the governor's chair, a spot the Democrats have controlled for 14 years. Romney is often mentioned as presidential timber, a type rival politicians like to uproot while it's still a seedling.

$115,000 Added to State Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $115,000 Arkansas project was added to the Senate water projects authorization bill passed Thursday.

The project calls for replacement of bridges over Boeuf River and Big Bayou in Chicot County.

The bill was passed on voice vote by the Senate after it accepted $115 million in amendments. The $4 billion measure has already been approved by the House.

Included in it are $1.4 million for modification of Dardanelle lock and dam on the Arkansas River to provide sewage disposal system for Russellville.

Modification of the Village Creek, White River and Mayberry levee districts at $1,018,000 is in the bill. The Village Creek project in Jackson and Lawrence counties gets $1,968,000.

The bill allows $300,000 for construction of two experimental water quality study projects in the Arkansas and Red River Basins.

Protests Tax Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Georgia-Pacific Corp. of Crossett has filed a suit to void a state use tax bill of $58,256 plus penalty of $5,725 in Pulaski Chancery Court. According to the firm, the State Revenue Department assessed the tax on items which were exempt. It was not known what items are in question.

Precipitation will be plentiful, especially in the eastern half of the nation, below normal in areas indicated on map.

Temperatures through October will be generally normal to below normal, except in Plains and Rocky Mountain states.

Theatrical Landmarks Disappearing

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two theatrical landmarks are disappearing from the Arkansas scene.

The Hot Springs city council this week authorized razing of the historic Hot Springs Opera House. And in Texarkana the Strand Theater has closed after 62 years in operation.

Both played an important part in the early cultural entertainment of the state, featuring such personalities as Sarah Bernhardt, Anna Held, Will Rogers, Helen Keller, Sousa, David Warfield, Houdini, Lillian Russell, Billie Burke and John Drew.

Gone with the two theaters, both run once as opera houses, will be the memories of ushers, stagehands, candy butchers and of course, audiences.

Both apparently made their exit because of financial troubles brought on by modern methods of mass communication. But while the huge, four-story Hot Springs theater started out as an opera house and remained so until its end, the Strand was converted from and Opera House to a "film theater" in 1924.

The Texarkana theater closed quietly and with some hopes that it may one day re-open.

But despite the fervent efforts of a public group called "The Friends," the Hot Springs opera house is gone forever. "The Friends" tried desperately to raise enough money to have the old building restored to the showplace it was in the 1880-1900 period.

The theater was built in 1882 and became such a cultural center that Pulitzer Prize winner Paul Green expressed an interest in writing a musical drama based on the most colorful period of the Spa theater.

The demise of the old structure began when the Auditorium Theater was built in 1904. But there were still non-theatrical attractions. Over 50 years ago the Assembly of God Church of America was formed in the opera house.

It was about the time the Hot Springs theater began fading that the W. C. Hardins built the Hardin Opera House—in 1900.

The brick for the building was made in Texarkana. The structure had three floors and three admission prices—10 cents for the lower floor, 20 for the gallery and 30 for the "buzzard rook."

The first show to play the theater was "White Horse Tavern" in 1901. The last movies were a double feature—Follow That Dream and X-15.

In 1905 the Hardins sold the theater to Elrich Enterprises and it was re-named the Grand Opera House. In 1924, after the building was sold to the Saenger Amusement Co. it became the Strand.

By 1925 the first road movie, "Birth of a Nation," had played there.

George Pakis, owner of the Hot Springs landmark, has not revealed his plans for the building. It has not been used since around 1915.

Plant Pay Averaging $67 Weekly

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas factory workers earned an average of $67.06 in August compared to $98 in Louisiana, $90 in Oklahoma and $96 in Texas. All three states were down about $1 from July.

The southwestern average was $91.52 and the national average for factory workers was $95.75.

The figures were compiled by the Labor Department and released today.

The average hourly earnings were $1.66 in Arkansas, $2.30 in Louisiana, $2.19 in Oklahoma and $2.31 in Texas. Arkansas workers put in an average of 40.4 hours per week to 42.6 for Louisiana, 41.3 for Oklahoma and 41.6 for Texas.

Non-farm employment in the Southwest increased by 12,300 in August to reach the highest level on record for this time of year.

The July to August upturn was shared by each of the four states in the Southwest and ranged from a gain of 1,500 workers in Arkansas to 6,800 in Texas. Employment in Louisiana increased by 2,200 and in Oklahoma by 1,800.

During the past twelve months, non-agricultural employment increased in each of the states but Louisiana.

In Arkansas the number of workers rose by 5,100 over the year to a total of 387,000. Employment in Oklahoma of 596,100 represented an increase of 9,200. In Texas, non-farm industries added 41,400 workers to raise the level to 2,573,000 in August.

In Louisiana, employment declined by 2,500 from the year-ago level to a current total of 781,200.

Donna Axum Is Cotton Queen

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Donna Axum, 20-year-old El Dorado girl, was named queen of the National Cotton Picking Contest in a pageant Thursday night.

She was crowned by Donna McGimpsey of Carthageville, Mo., 1961 queen.

Chosen as second alternate was Betty Jo Haynes of Whitehaven, Tenn., and third place went to Mary Alice Craig of Humboldt, Tenn.

The beauty contest highlighted a day of activities related to the annual Jaycee-sponsored contest. A parade was held Thursday afternoon.

The actual cotton picking contest, expected to draw more than 100 cotton pickers from Arkansas and southeast Missouri, will get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday. Winner in the men's division will receive $1,000. Winner of the women's division will receive $250.

Normalcy Far Off in Ole Miss Situation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Boiling students and reports of gunfire did little to encourage hopes today that normalcy was returning to the turbulent University of Mississippi campus.

The sprawling university—scene of riots and bloodshed in which two men were killed and more than 200 injured earlier this week—was practically deserted today.

Ole Miss students, including James H. Meredith, were on a weekend holiday and the homecoming game was 170 miles away in Jackson.

Meredith's whereabouts were not disclosed, but he was believed to be with his wife, a student at Jackson State College for Negroes, and 2-year-old son.

Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach held fast to his conviction that "we've gone a long way toward relieving tensions here and getting back to normalcy."

Meredith ate in the university cafeteria again Friday, causing one student to yell: "Who let that coon in here?"

Woman Gave Away Her 6 Children

LONDON (AP)—Margaret Edwards said today she had given away her six children because she couldn't afford to keep them.

The children are Elizabeth, 6, Kathleen, 5, Brian, 4, Leslie, 3, Arthur, 14 months, and Janet, born a month ago.

Mrs. Edwards lives in a trailer with her parents in the nearby countryside.

She was married at 17 to Kenneth Edwards.

Earlier this year, Mrs. Edwards, now 24, and her husband, separated but there has been no divorce.

The mother said that she put Elizabeth, Kathleen and Leslie in a children's home. A family in Newcastle adopted Brian. A couple in Peterborough adopted Arthur.

This week Mrs. Edwards gave baby Janet to Pauline Rowell who also lives in a trailer.

"I could either live on national assistance (unemployment relief) and keep Janet, without any hope of getting Elizabeth, Kathleen and Leslie back," said Mrs. Edwards, "or I could give her up and go to work."

"It's been a heart-breaking decision but now I've got a full-time job in a factory and I hope to save and have a home of my own. Then I'll be able to get back some of my poor children."

In Britain, parents who give away their children can ask to have them back but not if the children have been legally adopted.

Hurricane Playing Cat and Mouse

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Daisy, which has played cat and mouse with forecasters from the beginning, erupted into a full-blown hurricane overnight and then made a right turn today for Bermuda.

During the night, Daisy tucked up her skirt of gales and swelled from 80-mile winds to 100-mile winds at the center. During the morning, Daisy expanded, lashed out 50 miles in all directions with hurricane force winds. Gales extended 350 miles to the north and east and 85 miles to the southwest.

In an 11 a.m. EST advisory, the Weather Bureau located Daisy approximately 430 statute miles southwest of Bermuda. Course and speed were forecast as northeast at 17 miles per hour.

1963 United Fund Campaign Gets Underway Tuesday, Kickoff Breakfast at 7 a. m.

By MARY ANITA LASETER

The 1963 United Fund campaign will get under way next Tuesday, October 9 with a kickoff breakfast from 7 to 8 a. m. at the Barlow, according to Ed Thrash, Fund Drive chairman, and Clifford Franks, Fund President.

This week chairmen of various committees were named as follows: Bill Gunter, retail merchants; Al Graves, Jr., professional people; Dick Turnage, county officials; Judge Orle Byers, county employees; Jim Cole, suburban stores; James H. Jones, Hempstead County white teachers; W. V. Rutherford of Hope, Robert Wiley of Blevins, and L. W. Williamson of Washington, Hempstead County Negro teachers.

Ralph Emerson, industries; Ray Turner, auto dealers; Arlis Trout, wholesale oil dealers; Henry Fenwick, telephone company employees; Harry Hawthorne and C. W. Tapley, hotels and motels; Cliff Bridges and Fred Gray, special gifts; Roy Craine and W. D. Flowers, service stations. In the next day or so chairmen will also be appointed for the employees of the city, the state highway department, and the federal government.

Mr. Thrash is in charge of the breakfast at the Barlow sponsored by the Citizens National Bank and the First National Bank. At that time, prospect cards will be distributed to the chairmen, and it will be stressed that it hoped to complete the campaign for funds in two weeks. This is not only a United Fund drive for Hope, but all of Hempstead County is included, as is true for the distribution of needed funds for the coming year.

A budget of $17,500 was set up for Hempstead County's third annual United Fund Drive. This is less than $1 per capita, and it is geared to reach 15 different agencies, as well as taking care of operational expenses. Specifically, the budget is: Salvation Army $2,500; Boy Scouts, $4,669.74; Girl Scouts, $1,500; local Girl Scouts, $125; Red Cross, $2,500; arthritis and rheumatism, $500; Arkansas Mental Health Association, $300; polio, $500; cancer $500; underprivileged children, $500; cerebral palsy, $250; heart, $250; muscular dystrophy, $150; multiple sclerosis, $150; united community fund and council, $100; salaries, $300; expenses, $300; reserve fund, $1,905.26.

In case the specified agency will not accept money from a United Fund Drive, the money remains in the United Fund in Hempstead County and is used during the coming year for patients suffering from that particular disease. Sometimes more money is needed for treatments than was allotted for those with a particular disease (such as cancer). That is when the money in the reserve fund is used.

Each year the United Fund in our county makes possible the services of a number of important agencies. In planning their financing the United way, these agencies, as well as all participating businesses, industries, and individuals, are acting in the best interest of all.

Men and women in the business world are being contacted, and in order to reach those at home, the members of the Hope B & PW Club, the Hope Jaycees, and the Hope Junior Auxiliary will take part in a house-to-house campaign about the middle of October. The exact date will be announced.

The United Way is the Better Way, for it benefits your fellowman and yourself at the same time.

Compromise Postal Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed today a compromise bill to increase postal rates $600 million a year and at the same time raise salaries of government workers $1.05 billion a year in two steps.

House action, delayed on a technicality, sent the measure to President Kennedy. He has asked both the postal rate increase and a sweeping revision of the federal salary structure.

The major provision affecting the general public will be an increase in letter mail rates next Jan. 7. First-class letters will require a five-cent stamp, airmail eight cents and post cards four cents—a one-cent increase in each instance. These will bring in an added $437.8 million a year.

Other rate increases for newspapers, magazines and advertising material would be spread over three years, starting in January.

Pay raises for 1.6 million government workers would become effective with the first pay period after Kennedy signs the bill. A second increase would take effect Jan. 1, 1964.

Amounts of the raises vary widely among different jobs, but they average about 10 per cent for a million executive and office workers and slightly over 11 per cent for 600,000 postal employees.

ESD Permitted Resignations

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—J. L. Bland, administrator of the state Employment Security Division, said today three employees of the Jonesboro ESD office were permitted to resign after supervisors found placement figures had been padded.

Bland said R. J. Lyon, the manager of the Jonesboro office; J. L. Beard and R. M. Langford were "permitted" to resign to escape dismissal.

He said an audit of the Jonesboro office's affairs was made by ESD personnel under Bland's direction.

President Picks Up Campaign in Familiar Plea

By ARTHUR EDSON

DETROIT (AP)—President Kennedy, picking up where he left off in 1960, sweeps through Michigan and into Minnesota today with a familiar plea: he needs a strong Democratic Congress, he says, to get this nation moving economically.

His busy schedule includes stops in Flint and Muskegon, then it's on to St. Paul tonight for a traditional bean feed dinner and traditional speechmaking.

This is Kennedy's first big political trip since he campaigned for the presidency in 1960, and he plans to hustle out each Friday for a long weekend of politicking until election day Nov. 6.

On the basis of his showing Friday, it would appear that Kennedy is:

1. Getting more zip into his oratory as he begs for votes for others than he did when he was working for himself in 1960.

2. Sticking to a theme that he has used again and again, that it's the Republicans who are blocking legislation that would make this nation move faster.

3. Drawing crowds as large, or almost as large, as those who turned out during the 1960 campaign. But these crowds are far more sedate. No squealers, few jumpers.

In Cincinnati Kennedy even ran into some hecklers.

As he spoke he looked out on placards, held high, that bore such sentiments as these: "We licked Mississippi. How about Cuba?" "Less profile, more courage. Blockade Cuba."

In an attempt to answer these criticisms, Kennedy said, "This last administration ignored Latin America for eight years, and we paid the price."

But mostly it was a repeated plea to elect Democrats, coupled with scornful words for Republicans.

At his first stop, at the Greater Cincinnati Airport, Kennedy explained why he was out campaigning.

"While any administration and any President can make proposals dealing with matters which affect the welfare of all our people, in the final analysis it will depend upon the House of Representatives and the Senate to determine whether those proposals shall be accepted."

Dierks Workers Favor Union

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP)—Employees of Dierks Forest, Inc., wood processing plant at De Queen and employees of De Queen and Eastern Railroad shops voted Thursday on union representation, but the result was inconclusive.

The National Labor Relations Board supervised the election to see if employees wanted representation by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

The vote was 73 for the union, 53 against, and 22 votes were challenged. The final results will not be known until the NLRB rules on the challenged ballots. It was not known when the NLRB might hand down a ruling.

Blue Ticket Key to Selling State Cotton

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The key to selling a bale of cotton is a little blue-green ticket. From the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the ticket sets out the grade and staple of the cotton as established by one of the USDA classing offices scattered over the country.

Without it cotton is a vague commodity, a kind of agricultural iron ore. Once the grade is established, it is a specified commodity, like sheet steel, steel rods or steel beams.

The buyer can make his purchase according to his need. Perhaps he needs cheap, low grade fiber for stuffing material. Or he may need extra fine, long staple cotton for the finest cloth. In either case, he can't go to the market and say simply, "I want X number of bales of cotton."

A standard classing system is vital because in most cases the producer doesn't see the cotton after he delivers it to the gin. The textile miller doesn't see it until it arrives at his mill.

Yet, because of the classing system, the seller is not selling blind and the buyer knows exactly what he is getting.

The USDA Cotton Classing Office in Little Rock is typical of the government's classing operation. It classifies fiber for 43 of Arkansas' 49 cotton producing counties and last year 250,000 bales of the 1.5 million bales produced in the state were processed here.

The classification procedure is simple. The ginner takes a sample from each side of the bale, places one of the blue-green tags (provided by USDA) between the two samples and ships it to the classing office.

There an experienced classer matches it against standardized samples for color and grade and pulls it apart to determine fiber length.

Color, grade and length of fiber are the examinations under which cotton is graded. The difference in quality can mean a price difference of several cents a pound.

A checker, who assists the classer, notes on the blue-green card the judgment for that particular sample. The figures also are inscribed in a master book, kept by USDA, with a copy for the ginner.

The blue-green card goes back to the producer and he takes it with him when he consigns his cotton to a broker for sale.

Cotton from five northeast Arkansas counties — Mississippi, Greene, Clay, Craighead and Poinsett — is classed at Blytheville. Memphis classifies the Crittenden County crop. The rest comes to Little Rock.

Bill Carlisle, information officer in the Little Rock office, says 99 out of each 100 bales grown in Arkansas are classed by one of the three offices.

The classing service is free to grower under a 1937 act. The government even pays postage for sending the cotton in. Some cotton is classed — at 25 cents a bale for shippers or merchants.

When the farmer gets his card with grade and staple listed, he then has a pretty good idea what his cotton will bring.

For example, if he has middling grade, one and one-sixteenth inch staple, he knows he can put it under Commodity Credit Corp. loan for 33.96 cents a pound. In a good market, such as exists now, he can get 34-34.5 cents a pound on the open market.

For classing purposes, four colors of cotton — white, spotted, tinged and yellow tinged — are recognized. Grades range from low middling to strict good middling.

Carlisle said he had never seen

Zanuck Out to Prevent Bankruptcy

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The president of 20th Century-Fox strode out of his office and returned a minute later with a glass of beer.

Darryl Francis Zanuck sipped the beer, puffed on an oversized cigar and paced the room. It is a modest office, compared to his cavernous headquarters when he was chief of Fox production at the studio.

Papers are scattered in all parts of the room; international market reports occupy a chair, pending contracts fill a table. This is where Zanuck operates, sometimes from dawn until after midnight.

He is a single-minded man, and right now his crusade is to rescue the firm he helped found from the brink of bankruptcy. He paused to report his progress to a Hollywood visitor.

"I believe we are on our way toward stopping the downward trend," he said of the company that suffered an operating loss of $22.5 million last year.

"That should be followed by a holding-our-own period. Starting the first of the year, we will operate with a clean slate, but the reflections of the new policies will not be seen until the end of 1963. I expect by the middle of July 1963, the upward trend will be starting."

"A lot depends on the pictures now in release and coming up for release. None of these are my own pictures, except 'The Longest Day.' And it will not show much this year, as we will have only 50 roadshows worldwide. We'll know more about it after the general release in June 1963."

"Cleopatra" looms large in our future, but even it will not be felt for a long time. We won't be able to get it out before late spring or early summer, and the roadshows do not bring immense profits.

"The only yardstick we have is the record of 'Ben-Hur.' If you checked its first six months, you'd think it was a flop. The next year — what? The second year it did double the first, because it was in general release. That's the real gravy."

A sample of strict good middling, however. For practical purposes, good middling white cotton is the best produced in Arkansas.

The men who do the classing are amateurs. They must have five years experience in the cotton business before they can apply. Then they go to classing school for two weeks.

They work four months out of the year during the harvest season — and they move across the cotton country where the harvest is heaviest. Most of them are retired cotton men who need only four months work to piece out retirement benefits.

Supervisors make periodic checks of their work, regarding a sample and then checking the regrade against the original.

"We find they're very accurate," Carlisle said. "Of course men who were once in the cotton buying business are usually a little tougher on grading and men who were sellers are a little easier," he said.

The Little Rock office works two eight-hour shifts 19 men in the daytime and 10 men at night — six days a week and sometimes seven during the height of the season.

It can process about 18,000 bags of samples 20-25 samples in each bag a day. Right now the report is going out two days after the sample arrives.

But the classers will get further behind because right now about 25,000 bags are arriving daily.

Regardless of how far they get behind, however, accuracy will not be sacrificed for speed, Carlisle said.

"The grade marks that cotton until its spun into cloth or used for some other purpose," he said. "We want it to be correct."

Father Had His Day!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: As a boy my father, 60, sowed some pretty wild oats. Do you think this may have anything to do with his disapproval of the boy who wants to date me?

Not long ago this boy dropped around to see me when everyone was out; he couldn't have known this in advance. My father found out about the visit, which was perfectly harmless, and raised the roof.

I'm not yet 21 and I know the law says that until that age a parent has the right to run his child's life. This seems unfair, although I suppose when I have children I'll feel differently. What should I do to straighten things out between my father and this boy? — Furious

Dear Helen: You've got a wise head on your shoulders when you (a) suspect that your father's opposition to this boy stems from his own wild youth (b) admit that you may feel differently when you too become a parent.

Perfectly good instincts may be making your father distrust this boy. Ask your dad respectfully to give you his specific reasons. Perhaps he's right. At the same time bring the subject around to other local boys of whom he has a better opinion; by consulting him you can get his approval for other dating.

It's a far happier situation to be courted with, rather than against, parental consent.

Dear Helen: My mother-in-law slides with me, advising me to do exactly what my husband does, if only to prove that we women have our rights too.

He always knows where I am — never with the kids. I never know where he is; probably gambling our savings away at cards and drinking beer with the boys. When I carried his second child,

Little Flaws Really Hurt Human Race

The human spirit is so made that it can weather well the major perils of existence—such as wars, earthquakes, marrying the wrong girl and seeing the other fellow get the job we wanted.

These great shocks to being we can take in stride, and still march chin up into the everblowing wind. It's the little flaw in living in an imperfect world that gets us down.

We are so made that we can put up with a piece of toast wholly burned on both sides better than we can one that is only partly burned on a single side. Yes, the fortune with which we can meet the big disaster fails us in facing the great bites of a tiny recurrent annoyance.

Everyone has his own favorite chink in the armor of his aplomb, that little touch of grayness that keeps his day from being a happy adventure in living color.

With me it's the problem of dealing with wire coat hangers. I don't know just when I began to hate wire coat hangers. Science to the contrary, I feel sure it is an inherited fear. My mother doesn't recall being frightened by a waving wire coat hanger in the months before my birth, but it must have happened.

Certainly as long as I can remember, I have been haunted by the problem of wire coat hangers, just as some people are fated forever to have their shoe laces break whenever they dress in a hurry.

There are men who can laugh at wire coat hangers, and treat them as faithful metal servants. They can drape their pants at night in a wire coat hanger, and awaken in the morning and find them there smooth and un-wrinkled.

Not me. No matter how carefully I hang my coat and trousers

Apportionment Suit Is Likely

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — An advisory to Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus has announced that lawsuits challenging the apportionment of Arkansas legislative seats may soon be filed.

Attorney William J. Smith of Little Rock filed the statements on legislative reapportionment with the Southern Governors Conference meeting in Hollywood for consideration at today's closing session.

Smith said suits are now threatened in Arkansas to challenge the state's frozen senatorial districts and to challenge the assignment of one representative to each county.

The attorney added that during the past week he had declined employment to file a suit because he was assisting the Arkansas attorney general in defending the congressional districting act.

He said he felt that in apportioning, the state must deal with something other than population. Smith said he deplored the entry of courts into reapportionment problems and said political men, with knowledge of their state, were best qualified to deal with the problem.

on a wire coat hanger—even if I tie them on with my belt—all I have to do is look away, and I hear the soft plop of clothing landing on the floor.

There are also men who can close their eyes and reach into a forest of wire coat hangers and pluck out one dedicated to his purpose.

Not me. If there were only two wire coat hangers left in the world, and I reached for one, it would become entangled in the other, and I would tug fruitlessly.

For years I tried to fight destiny by twisting apart and throwing away every wire coat hanger I met, and encouraged my friends to do likewise. The result: They made more.

Now don't tell me the simple solution is to buy wooden clothes hangers. Twice I've had my wife buy up a dozen wooden clothes hangers.

What happened? Within two days the wooden hangers would be mysteriously transferred to my wife's closet. And when I opened my own closet, there were my suits crumpled on the floor beneath a row of tangled wire coat hangers darkly grinning.

The group of ranchers came probing down the creek and Youngblood and his remaining three men turned them back with a fierce fusillade. Then it was quiet for a minute.

They could hear scattered shots to the south, then a burst of gunfire to the southeast, perhaps half a mile away. The deputy climbed cautiously up the bank and looked around.

To the south and west he saw a rider going away, leading a horse with a man's form face downward across the saddle. Out to the east, Youngblood could see the main group of the sheriff's men and farther away from town drifting dust that marked more riders. Youngblood climbed back down the bank and led his men in a search for a quarter of a mile along the creek and, finding nothing cut out east to join the sheriff.

After the sheriff heard about the two cattlemen Youngblood knew were out of action, he said, "I don't believe we lost track on any of them around the creek. This bunch you see out there must be the one you run into. There's about 20 more circling farther out with Pendergrass."

The sheriff was concerned because they could not see the largest group of attackers, however, they did have a fair view of all the approaches to town. "At least they ain't got quite the odds they had," he told Youngblood. "Two of them fellers in that bunch are carrying lead."

Six Men Make Practical Escape

LONDON (AP)—The Admiralty said today six men have made a practice escape in the Mediterranean from the submarine Tiptoe at the record depth of 20 feet.

The men used a new two-man escape chamber which makes it unnecessary to flood a compartment of the submarine in order to equalize the water pressure inside with that outside. That was the old escape technique.

The Tiptoe is a sister ship of the submarines Thetis and Truculent, which sank in British waters some years ago with a loss of 13 lives.

Lake Ouachita Tests Planned

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) - The Army Engineers Waterways Experiment Station of Vicksburg, Miss. will begin a series of underwater explosions in Lake Ouachita Friday to study the impact of surface waves.

Similar tests were conducted by Engineers last year. Spokesmen said the tests would be useful in determining tidal wave effects of nuclear explosions in fresh water.

The tests will last through November. The state Game and Fish Commission will work with Engineers to study side effects of the waves on fish.

Motto Goes on House Wall

WASHINGTON (AP) - The words "In God We Trust" blazed forth in gold letters on the wall today above the speaker's chair in the House of Representatives.

Rep. Fred Marshall, D-Minn., who introduced the resolution calling for installation of the motto, hailed its appearance as "an historic event."

The Capitol architect rushed through a temporary installation in time for the last days of the session. During the recess an enlarged version of the motto will be inscribed on the marble wall.

Arkansas State Still Unbeaten

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) - Arkansas State's Indians, unbeaten after facing two good small college teams, takes on winless St. Mary of the Plains from Dodge City, Kan., Saturday night at Kays Field in the Tribe's home opener.

Arkansas State will face a real Indian, St. Mary halfback Bob Lisa, the nation's leading small college rusher. Last year Lisa gained 1,082 yards in 156 carries for an average of 6.9 yards per try.

St. Mary has lost this year to Nebraska State Teachers, Colorado College, Missouri Mines and Lincoln University.

Arkansas State beat second-ranked South Dakota State 9-7 and Florence, Ala., State 23-15.

State guard Jake Darby is believed to have appendicitis and will not see action against St. Mary. He is the team's top punter, having averaged 29.5 yards per kick.

Only 2 New Shows Yet to Make Debut

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The new television season is now well launched. Only two of 29 new weekly programs have yet to make their debuts. Television executives believe that most viewers already have made their decisions about the shows we will watch the rest of the fall and winter.

"Practically without exception, people make up their minds by the end of the second week of a show," said one network programming specialist. "They test out a new program one week, and make a choice the second."

Usually, we stick by our choices. Right now, all three networks have strong suspicions about the success or failure of their new shows and of old shows returning. But it will be public information around Nov. 1 when the first nationwide ratings - those vital estimates of audience size - are released.

Do we still love Lucy? Would we rather watch nurses in action than Dr. Kildare? Will we sit still for 90 minutes of "The Virginian" or rejoin "Wagon Train" for a shorter stay? Is Perry Mason as attractive on Thursday as he was on Saturday? Is it as much fun to see Jackie Gleason once a week as it used to be? The ratings will say.

Every year at this time, the pessimists insist there will be a lot of replacements after the first of the year. Each season there are a few. Even a week series - one which is the choice of only a few million viewers - usually lingers for a whole season.

You don't need a crystal ball - or even a rating service - to predict the most popular television programs during the next few days: They will be the World Series baseball games, and NBC has them. They roll up peak audience every year.

NBC's method of covering the Schirra flight by running printed bulletins and voice reports along with the telecast of the Giant-Dodger playoff game this week worked out very well. It may even have made some new baseball fans.

Saturday - "The Defenders," CBS, 8:30-9:30 p.m. - Ed Begley is guest star in an episode of the series specializing in good scripts.

Sunday - "Twentieth Century," CBS, 7-8 p.m. - a study of the use of opinion polls as a political tool; "Meet the Press," NBC, 6-6:30 - Richard M. Nixon is the guest; "Voice of Firestone," ABC, 10-10:30 - classical and popular

Proceedings in Circuit Court

Proceedings in Hempstead Circuit Court this week:
T. J. Harris and Jimmie Lee Lindsey, plea of guilty to hog theft. Each received a one-year sentence in the penitentiary and a two-year suspended sentence.

Thco Primus, plea of guilty to assault to kill, three-year suspended sentence.

John Martin Holt and Billy Ray Cox, plea of guilty to cattle theft. Each received a one-year sentence in the penitentiary and a two-year suspended sentence.

Herman Frierson, plea of guilty to petty larceny, fined $25.

Edgar Henry, plea of guilty to petty larceny, fined $25.

Oscar Allison of Hope was fined $10 for contempt of court.

On the civil side of the docket, a jury ruled in favor of Shirley Robins in a suit brought against him by E. C. Atkins. Atkins, a real estate broker, alleged that Robins was indebted to him relative to the sale of the Robins farm near Ozan.

In another jury trial, the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. prevailed in a suit brought by Jack Arnette wherein Arnette alleged the negligent killing of his livestock by a train.

Art Aimed at Sparking Religion

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) - Catholic, Protestant and Jewish artists

from throughout the country will exhibit a $20,000 worth of paintings and sculpture next week in a fast growing movement aimed at giving more vitality to religious art.

The occasion is the third biennial National Religious Art Exhibition which will be held Oct. 11-25 in suburban Birmingham, the place of its birth four years ago in the gymnasium of a church.

Mounting interest forced the promoters to move the show to a big tent the following year. This year's exhibition will be in an auditorium able to accommodate 1,000 persons a day.

Exhibits likewise have grown. The show opening next week will display about 300 selections by 220 artists from 22 states plus a number of foreign countries, and will include mosaics, metal works, ceramics, enameled, textiles and graphic arts as well as paintings and sculpture.

The sponsor of the show still is the Holy Name (Catholic) parish of Birmingham but its expenses are underwritten by art patrons of many faiths. Prize winners will share $3,000 in cash awards.

Besides encouraging artists to interpret the life of Christ, the Rev. William B. Davidson of Holy Name church said the idea behind the exhibition which he got going originally was "to stimulate public interest in an appreciation of religious art, and to encourage private ownership of religious art objects."

Approximately 100 of 400 entries submitted for showing this year were turned down by a selection board. Those chosen range from a 4x6 foot painting of a Roman soldier nailing Christ to the

REMEMBER the Sabbath Day to keep it HOLY

IN THE Ten Commandments, which do you suppose gets the larger treatment? Reverent observance of the divine order for a day of rest and of worship gets chief emphasis. A moment's reflection makes the reason clear. The man who does not take time to keep the Sabbath will likely forget to worship the God of his fathers; he who does not reverence God cannot be expected to regard his neighbor and his neighbor's goods. Sabbath observance stands, therefore, at the very center of religion and of morality. Then if you disregard the Sabbath you do it at the peril of your soul!

NOTICE the argument of Moses. God could get His work done in six days, even the creation of a universe and all its creatures. Surely you do not need the seventh day for the lesser tasks of your doing.

YOU are under the command of God; you are a part of His creation; there is nothing more important for you than that you remember God and your relation to Him. The Sabbath is such a time of remembrance. The church bell, the rest from daily toil, the quietness in the busy street, the need of your own soul, unite to remind you of your God and His day. The law giver commanded His people to keep this one day sacred to the Lord; to use it for one's own profit is to rob God of the time which belongs to Him.

HERE is an ancient command, never more important than today. The press of the material and the secular was never more insistent; things want to get in the saddle and ride mankind. Remember the Sabbath; then you will worship God and know that you are the eternal child of the Highest. He who remembers the Sabbath most is most likely to remember to attend his church.

So They May See == 2 Corinthians 13 == So They May Hear

THIS IS THE THIRD TIME I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2. I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:

3. Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty in you.

4. For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5. Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6. But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

NOW I PRAY TO GOD that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8. For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9. For we are glad, when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection.

10. Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11. Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

12. Greet one another with an holy kiss.

13. All the saints salute you.

14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.
